

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF TEXAS

No. 07-0288

CITY OF DALLAS, PETITIONER,

v.

DAVID S. MARTIN AND GEORGE G. PARKER, ET AL., RESPONDENTS

ON PETITION FOR REVIEW FROM THE
COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE FIFTH DISTRICT OF TEXAS

Argued December 17, 2009

JUSTICE JOHNSON delivered the opinion of the Court, in which CHIEF JUSTICE JEFFERSON, JUSTICE HECHT, JUSTICE WAINWRIGHT, JUSTICE MEDINA, JUSTICE GREEN, JUSTICE GUZMAN, and JUSTICE LEHRMANN joined.

JUSTICE WILLETT filed a dissenting opinion.

This appeal involves issues of governmental immunity from suit. With the exception that this matter is a class action, which does not affect our analysis or conclusions, and one argument that we address separately, the material facts, procedural background, issues, and arguments presented are similar to those we considered in City of Dallas v. Albert, ___ S.W.3d ___ (Tex. 2011). Thus, our conclusions and holdings are the same as those in Albert.

The matter¹ arises out of a dispute over whether the City of Dallas paid its firefighters and police officers in accordance with a 1979 ordinance adopted pursuant to a voter-approved referendum.² Claiming the City had not properly paid them, some firefighters and police officers (collectively, the Officers) brought a class action asserting breach of contract claims and seeking a declaratory judgment.

As it did in Albert, the City filed a counterclaim, later filed a plea to the jurisdiction based on governmental immunity, and then dismissed its counterclaim. The trial court denied the City's plea to the jurisdiction and the City filed an interlocutory appeal. See TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE § 51.014(8). While the appeal was pending at the court of appeals, the Legislature amended the Local Government Code to provide for a limited, retroactive waiver of certain local governmental entities' immunity from suit. See TEX. LOC. GOV'T CODE § 271.152.³ In light of judicial⁴ and

Be it ordained that: (1) From and after October 1, 1978, each sworn police officer and fire fighter and rescue officer employed by the City of Dallas, shall receive a raise in salary in an amount equal to not less than 15% of the base salary of a City of Dallas sworn police officer or fire fighter and rescue officer with three years service computed on the pay level in effect for sworn police officers and fire fighters and rescue officers of the City of Dallas with three years service in effect in the fiscal year beginning October, 1977; (2) The current percentage pay differential between grades in the sworn ranks of the Dallas Police Force and the Fire Fighter and Rescue Force shall be maintained; and (3) Employment benefits and assignment pay shall be maintained at levels of not less than those in effect for the fiscal year beginning October, 1977.

Dallas, Tex., Ordinance 16084 (Jan. 22, 1979).

³ Section 271.152 of the Local Government Code provides:

A local governmental entity that is authorized by statute or the constitution to enter into a contract and that enters into a contract subject to this subchapter waives sovereign immunity to suit for the purpose of adjudicating a claim for breach of the contract, subject to the terms and conditions of this subchapter.

⁴ More specifically, we decided Tooke v. City of Mexia, 197 S.W.3d 325 (Tex. 2006) and Reata Construction Corp. v. City of Dallas, 197 S.W.3d 371 (Tex. 2006). In Tooke we held that the phrases "sue and be sued" and "plead and implead" do not constitute clear and unambiguous waivers of governmental immunity. 197 S.W.3d at 342. In Reata we held that a governmental entity does not have immunity from monetary claims against it that are "germane to, connected with, and properly defensive to" affirmative claims made by the entity, to the extent the claims against the entity offset the entity's claims. 197 S.W.3d at 378.

legislative proceedings that took place after the trial court made its rulings, the court of appeals affirmed in part, reversed in part, and remanded the case for reconsideration by the trial court. 214 S.W.3d 638, 644.

For the reasons set out in Albert we conclude that: (1) the ordinance's adoption by means of referendum did not result in the City's loss of immunity from suit; ___ S.W.3d at ___; (2) the City has immunity from suit as to the declaratory judgment action; ___ S.W.3d at ___; (3) by non-suiting its counterclaim the City did not reinstate immunity from suit as to the Officers' claims that were pending against the City when it non-suited the counterclaim; ___S.W.3d at ___; and (4) the case must be remanded for the trial court to consider whether the Legislature waived the City's immunity by amending the Local Government Code. ___ S.W.3d at ___.

In addition to arguments made in Albert and addressed above, the Officers in this case assert that the City's immunity from suit is waived because the suit implicitly involves the validity of pay resolutions adopted by the city council. See TEX. CIV. PRAC. & REM. CODE § 37.006(b) ("In any proceeding that involves the validity of a municipal ordinance . . . the municipality must be made a party . . ."). However, the Officers' pleadings do not support this contention. Their pleadings reference the ordinance as having become a term of their employment contracts and two resolutions as possible bases for calculating their damages. They do not question the validity of either the ordinance or a resolution.

We reverse the judgment of the court of appeals and remand the case to the trial court for further proceedings.
